December 22, 2022

Dear and dear friends of the Edu academy, I come here to your office with much love, respect and hard work to thank you for all the work and respect that you secretaries, director and teachers of the academy have always had with me and I as a student and writer of this academy I I have the honor to thank everyone for the great support and encouragement that everyone has been giving me and sending beautiful and extraordinary emails honoring me as a great philosopher, doctor and many other associations have given me many compliments and greetings that I feel grateful for all you see and read my mentions that for me it is a great gift and love that I will have to keep with great enthusiasm from a great writer who has many geniuses as well as many masters of science, literature, psychology and much, They encouraged me with their comments and criticisms, which for me is really a great satisfaction in reviewing good words from great friends and followers who always give me their comments talking about my valuable work that I always represent for this academy with a lot of dedication and love to grow some better day in life and make good friends with serious and familiar people who are like brothers to me who I also follow their fantastic and extraordinary works about everything in life that I have the mere satisfaction as a student and writer of this famous American academy that gave me the chance to show with all honor and love to my work all the creativity of my soul that will be kept as much with me as all of you who are brilliant and magnificent people who work with honesty, competence and education for the progress of humanity that I have always admired and I want to congratulate you from the bottom of my heart for the extraordinary greatness and respect for the work that you all have always shown for all of us and for the world to always see how much you are excellent people and always contributed to the great global development of the whole world in education that I have a lot of admiration and respect for you in showing all my history that I started as a child until today as an adult writing several texts and stories and many stories that I always told about myself and about many things that happen in life that today I represent a more complete and qualified story that I show to the academy all my works that I have always dedicated myself from the heart and I stick to my work that has always been like a hobby for me that I describe true sentimental and profound stories that even made me a great writer that today I am known all over the world because of you that I never dreamed that I would reach such a deep and competent space in my life that opened the doors of my wisdom even more and that today I achieved for you and for many great writers and magnificent people great merits achieved as well as great admiration and comments from happy people that made me very happy and grateful for the collaboration of all and the competent work of you who always contributed to the great development in the education of united states and that for me that was very cool because I want to tell you that I have a lot of admiration for this country as well as many others that are formidable and there are beautiful people who want to learn the best teaching and knowledge in life and that there are also beautiful and extraordinary intelligent people who make us apprehend and research at Edu Academy several extraordinary stories and tales that make us apprehend and know the world better up close and educate us enough for our great cultural and school development for our better future It is a path that opens up the doors of wisdom and I want to talk about you here because I read the entire history of the Edu Academy and discovered that it was created with a lot of love, respect and work for the idea of Richard Price who finished his doctorate in philosophy at Oxford and I want to thank this great friend and doctor called Richard Price who developed a magnificent work essential in education for the world in which today we add thousands of people working as much as possible. studying at this magnificent American university that shows us a great impact worldwide in great formulations and academic and scientific works that reveals something substantial to the great development of culture and technology that there are several people who have always contributed and always do research great students have to develop different bases on science that is really the flame for the development of life and also the literary and philosophical development that has always contributed to establish and also develop high esteem and education as a moral basis based on a great recognition of great people and scientists who have always contributed and left diverse legacies for great research among great students and researchers from academia and around the world and I want to talk about beautiful people and young men enthusiastic about culture and education that has changed the world history of the great development on several countries that face today worldwide a certain crisis between education and the economy that has always transcribed a superlative role for us and significant about society that perhaps the middle classes did not have a good recognition with school discipline and education that few young people have understood and developed a fundamental basis of understanding life between society and the world that we necessarily need to seek a deep psychological recognition as an emotional weapon that I believe we live in a climate generalized by the consequences of life in which we are the result of what we do and we think about how much society teaches us the opposite of life the different things that I cannot believe that we are totally equal due certainly to uncertain orders and personal developments and education on the other classes that we total 50 percent that are formalized and normalized with life while 50 percent have their rights preserved and walk accordingly with life and the world has to unite because we need education as a fundamental basis in life and I believe that history of social advancement comes from everything in life and that someday we will be able to make everyone equal and then the world will stop like a dream that can someday come true and I want to talk about my life and how I started my writing career when I was a a teenager and was 30 years old.

When I started writing some things in my teens until today when I was discovering the world better and that's when I started writing and here I'm going to tell my story when everything was different and when my life began narrating verses.

BIOGRAPHICAL PUBLICATION OF MY STORY AND ALL MY BOOKS

Dear and illustrious friends, as a writer, I have the honor to express myself and talk a little about myself and my work. I started my career as a writer in Vitória de Santo Antão and I have continued here in Olinda as a visionary. history first for our people from the northeast who have always inspired me with their culture in which I see so much in music and national cinema where they are specified and we have a great passion for our stories in the northeast of Brazil that stand out among several northeastern figures who philosophically show us their musical songs and films,a grammar that teaches us to know its literary effects that I can clearly say how much I smiled and cried with different dimensions that taught me to know the origin of our people among perhaps the pain of suffering that magnifies the national poverty that can even be our wealth , because I believe they support and protect this country through love as light and path among so many others who react to life and honestly respect humanity even in a time that shows us a little catastrophic about our power and superlative abilities to build the world and for everything that is called art in Portuguese as a physical effect on society that is like a bad reaction, an act occurred and vice versa and God bless everyone. For me, I just describe it literally as an art where I literally translate storytelling as stories where I simplify my artistic philosophy into this theory. I am a writer and my name is Roberto Barros and I love my life. The adolescence until today in which I live a creative and visionary character who put all my theory in a metaphysics of the narration of several stories such as short stories, chronicles, thoughts, poetry, musical in relation to national rock, MPB from different places in our country where I always loved the northeastern culture and the national rock cultural movement that I apprehend that I was going to play and sing and I really like the musical philosophy that always shows us criticisms, philosophies and ballads that push us to build great stories that remain in the memory of all of us in which I put all my philosophy into a foreign and Brazilian musical study and into the narrative of several cinema stories so that in the future I can make a good film with a real script in which I philosophically describe everything I see and feel about myself as an ark of dreams called a culture that simply has no mystery, but a literature that marked an era in which I am what I do and what I dreamed of. Thank you all!

BIOGRAPHY OF ALL MY BOOKS

In an attitude explored to the letter that extinguishes a notion more than an orthographic vocabulary that I come here for a greater dissolution of my ideas and literary concepts in which I collect all my categories citing them biographically and metaphysically each constructive and passive act and effect of a contradictory relationship with my soul that sounds like a constructive and demonstrative purpose of a stronger character in my words exposed in a term more focused on anatomy, psychology and metaphysics in my simple speeches of 'a concept of words in the orders of an optimist definite conjunction in my true perspective.

The fables are formulated by a characteristic in time that seeks to achieve a scientific way of expressing my dreams.

through a journey through time in which I see a scientist character unveiling the most intrepid secrets of life involved with a frontier between cosmic spaces that are productively revealed in my impulses created by my subtle strength of identification of the soul that is identified with my mind, which is creatively stored in the subconscious and turned into nuclear chemistry to energize the mind for a new and perfect life which undergoes a chemical and nuclear process into a combination of beautiful and beautiful images projected by the dreaming mind of a past time that was kept in the memories from past.

The thoughts are framed by a psychological and philosophical feature that I have saved a social media reasoning in which I see the notion of life in front of people who are precariously misled by whatever fantasy or burning desire attributed by the voluntary force of blind love so soon transforms the industrialized hatred by emotional factors reaching mental imbalance for a material struggle due to a neuropsychic sum to the most needy, dreamers and fighters for the gain and conquest of life that today are millions of human beings depending on the harsh voracity and realities built and destroyed by a harsh sentimental reason that always seeks us a better way of living.

The chronicles are formulated by a metaphysical characteristic that in my opinion everything we do and create formatively is expressed in great relativity and varieties of points in which we gain in equation and in fraction by a displacement and a time interval and gestures by expression and the agreement on an emotional factor derived from training, formulating ideas reached a conclusion of great personal varieties, that is, everything that materializes or spiritualizes that makes us win, lose, hate, love and so on. Being all by chance of life in a suspicious combination or subject to a definite state for something, other and someone being all about a variation of life for a passive and moral encounter of an understanding.

The tales are made by a characteristic of a young man who, with regard to life in everyone and with everyone, was born from an adventurous and historic fraternity that sees life as a missionary passing light and that we remember daily the best times we had and it stayed in the memory of all of us what we do today in relation to life and our life that makes us a little different from people who make mistakes about their own lives and urge us to put in order everything we've lived and that we've seen as a dream that today have become great stories in a poetic brotherhood in the eternal stage of life that will serve us as memories of our youth and will make us live forever in every moment of life everything that has passed us by and before we obtain everything by a simple notion of our ideas and our ideal arising in the simple circumstance of life that, in a productive and creative way, resembled never in the future as a reminder of everything in life.

My point of view is simply a notion that I assume as a duty and based on a class of ideas that I reconstruct for myself, always looking at the bright and dark side of life, differentiating myself from the evil that is against it. Love because life offers us more let us be subjected to the misfits of life that represent the dark side of life that is black and that has no value in a clear vision and always lived by the creation of life as well as the push and pull of the universe that is still the builder and destroyer of the best lives that are always illuminated by sunlight in a hue of dark and light, all later remaining in the quintessence of life in my conceptions and vibrations of a modern man and the future that I will always play like a sound always play a melody that satisfies a benefactor world of my ideas and points of view of a perfect writer of herself that I made in my bar a subtle movement that took my boat to the shores of the safety of the soul and the most correct creation and perfection that the life taught me. Thank you very much and a big hug!

I mean, this book I made is in the literary form I've been looking for from my Portuguese from Italian to Portuguese as I decipher in my words as a story that tells a more vocational philosophy that 'I wrote everything from my original texts. I made fascinating stories in which my sociology is more applied to a more composed and idealistic way of seeing and prescribing a life that I approached a more effective grammar as a story lesson that I leave here so that everyone can see a little of my work mentalized in a more common notion and I want to thank and honor one of the ancient Roman philosophers called Lucius Aneu Seneca or Seneca who was a stoic philosopher and one of the lawyers, most famous writers and intellectuals of the Roman Empire and I want to talk here about a civilization that is the capital of Italy, which is a cosmopolitan city called Rome, the capital of Italy, is a great cosmopolitan city, with almost 3000 years of art, architecture and culture influential around the world and on display. Ancient ruins like the Forum and Colosseum evoke the power of the ancient Roman Empire. Vatican City, the home of the Roman Catholic Church, the Basilica of Saint-Pierre and the museums of the Vatican like leaders - to function at home like Michel-Angel's Sistine Chapel frescoes and was founded on: April 21, 753 BC

I want it to be clear that this great book is beautiful texts that I wrote with a lot of love, respect, loyalty and dignity to show a little of myself and everything that I describe on my website Thoughts and Spirits of Wisdom that come together in the lyrics of the website Recanto in a beautiful and well-crafted construction for everyone to keep as a personal memory that I leave here all my point of view as an author and writer to all my dear and illustrious friends and thank you all!

I want to thank you for this work done and created by me that I did with a lot of love in a splendid relativity that I transcribe in a translation into Portuguese and Italian a more centered philosophy with all my theory and logic than has a beautiful work and beautiful stories transcribed from my website that will be the most cherished memories of a fabulous hero and writer that in simple circumstances I dedicate with affection and friendship to my greatest and best friends at Recanto das Letras and I wish to thank God for his encouragement in classifying me as an immutable light that in my words decipher my entire history of an author and visionary who will enter the history of all the greatest national writers and I want to give my biggest hug to the Italian people and the city called Rome and describe their cultural language in these great sheets that were born from an artistic and professional formality so that everyone can deeply research the best academic and pedagogical knowledge and thank you all from the heart for my intention and unfolding in the other foreign languages that surround us and make us find in the words soul, gesture and color and the best glory and affection that remain as memories of a writer, musician and athlete for everyone in the family and thank you very much!

I wish with great pleasure and expression to dedicate this book that I made with much love and loyalty with respect to certain origins that colonized our country so many satisfying spectacles that our love can simply be preserved within an education that we could contain by a discipline in which we must have in logic that God created the world and man and taught him the truth that I am simplifying here as the best Jewish teaching that shows us the whole story of the Bible about man who today is more God and maybe I did not understand that God made us in one aspect more logical and well defined that we must follow and we are not going to talk about several gods because I believe that all will always be the same because God is the same and we must transcribe this story with more intensity and love because we would not doubt his love and his relationship with being human in this youland that mixes religion and politics between many countries and I don't want to break too much just because maybe they might even be right because different versions of the Bible about God and countries deflower this picture into varieties, distorting Catholicism which is actually more sensitive to the true story of Christ and this god lived on earth and led man to different purposes of living and apprehending to value his life during the various existences and resistances that have made man apprehend and understand the true story of god and the bible making it real more logical story, I am no longer a Jew, I am proud of your severity with God and his teachings and I want to say that we can understand the Jews a little and appreciate their existence on earth and devalue theirI am proud of your severity with God and his teachings and I want to say that we can understand the Jews a little and appreciate their existence on earth and devalue their deaths in Nazi concentration camps because I believe that education begins with faith and love in God and we would not picture anyone who may have shown a deeper love for religion and that its origins and colonization in our country become clearer than in a small. I can better understand Judaism and how it all started. The trajectory of Jews in Brazil begins even before the arrival of Cabral's fleet: it begins at the end of the 15th century, when Jews, Spaniards and Portuguese were forced to convert to Christianity, under penalty of being expelled from their respective countries. In Spain, in 1492, the first great migratory movement of Jews was born, that of the Sephardim. They left the country after the decree signed by the "Catholic Monarchs" Isabel de Castella and Fernando Aragão, expelling those who did not convert to Christianity. They then make their way to the Ottoman Empire, the Polish and Russian steppes, Morocco and across the border into Portugal. From Portugal from 1540 onwards, New Christians and especially those who still had Jewish religious practices intensified their efforts to emigrate to the New World. At that time, Portugal was just starting to colonize the discovered lands. Jews from Pernambuco. The first Jewish families arrived in Recife in 1635, when Pernambuco was under Dutch rule, had just over 10,000 inhabitants and was the richest Brazilian captaincy. Currently, there are around 1,500 Jews in Pernambuco. ... in the 17th century, the arrival of "new Spanish-Portuguese Christians" had already taken place in Pernambuco. I'm talking about our origins, that began in 1635 under Dutch rule, in which we show with extensive research the war between the Portuguese and the Dutch who dominated the city of Olinda. On a day like this, in 1631, the city of Olinda in Pernambuco was set on fire.

and looted by the Dutch who had invaded the place the year before, there were a total of 24 years of Dutch rule until 'they ended up being expelled by the Portuguese and Olinda is one of the oldest Brazilian cities and the Portuguese conquered Olinda. Between 1534 and 1536, D. João III installs the regime of hereditary captaincies in Brazil. Such a system was characterized by the donation of land, from the port captain's office, to a grantee (Portuguese nobleman), who would be responsible for the exploration, colonization of the land, foundation of villages, collection of taxes. And establishment of the rules (justice) of the place. Among the first 14 lots distributed by D. João III was the Capitania dos Portos de Pernambuco, or Capitania dos Portos de Nova Lusitânia, as its donor, Duarte Coelho, called it. So, in 1535, Duarte Coelho settled in the place where, in 1537, Vila de Olinda was founded. That same year, Vila de Igarassu was also founded. Until then, the occupants of this region were the Indians of Tabajara. I want with great pleasure and expression to dedicate this book that I made with a lot of love and loyalty to certain origins that colonized our country, because many that are satisfactory still show where our origins are and we can learn to value our lives and our people and thank you!

I want to boost my convictions in this work created from a musical classification of a foreign group that must superlatively show everything about Rock In Roll le its fantastic musical harmonies that man cannot explain its tonic musical expression that this group Pink Floyd was a band British rock band, formed in London in 1965, which achieved international success. His work has been marked by the use of philosophical lyrics, musical experiments, innovative album inserts and elaborate performances and I want to show in my words and philosophies a commemorative context of a fantastic list of songs from a well known Pink Floyd album called The Royal Orchester Philharmonique Le Symphonique that will mark all my philosophy and expression contained in this album that is written here in my contradictions of a visionary scientist and dreamer that I search in my memory for the most beautiful representations in musical version of this group in my literary capacity that I deciphered with much love and harmony all my fan expression of Pink Floyd and philosophical music in my memory that will remain forever in the history of each one.

Pink Floyd's history began in 1965. Rick Wright, Roger Waters and Nick Mason studied architecture at the University of Cambridge, in London, and decided to form a band and venture into small shows in London pubs. The trio was called Sigma 6 and their early repertoire included blues and folk covers. Shortly after, they decide to increase the number of members and Waters introduces two university friends, Roger Keith (Syd Barrett) and David Gilmour. With a new group formed, the musicians decide to change the name of the group to The Screaming Abdabds, Guess Barret. There were other names like just Abdabs and T-Set, before arriving at Pink Floyd, which is nothing more than the fusion of the names of two bluesmen, Pink Anderson and Floyd Council, of which Syd Barrett was a fan. David Gilmour decides to leave the band and travel to France, establishing from there the following lineup of Pink Floyd: Roger Waters on bass and vocals, Syd Barret on guitar and vocals, Rick Wright on keyboards and vocals and Nick Manson on drums. The group performed at small festivals that took place in London. The big advantage of Pink Floyd was the use of slides in their presentations. During the show, several slides were projected across the stage, a totally innovative initiative that would later be adopted by several other groups. Syd Barrett, who in addition to being a musician was also a painter, was one of the main people responsible for the project. The quartet began to gain visibility in the London music scene and was soon invited to record singles, which were broadcast on the radio. But their big break came with the band being signed to EMI, which led to them writing the perversely

- studio Road Optical Abbey. The group had a big challenge ahead of them. Enter a music scene that has names like The Beatles, Rolling Stones, Bob Dylan, Eric Clapton, among others. It would not be an easy task. In the same pear-anode and in the same studio where Pink Floyd recorded their first album, the Beatles recorded Sgt Peppers Lonely Hearts Club Band (1967). Being face to face with the Beatles may have helped Floyd a lot. Then, in 1967, The Piper at the Gates of Dawn was released, which immediately rose to the top of the UK charts. This work is considered by many to be the first progressive rock milestone and competes specifically with Sgt Peppers.... The tat - as the first work of rock art. The group was already successful, but not everything was happiness. Barret's sanity was impaired by excessive drug use, reaching the limit, in one of the presentations, and the musician could only play a chord. No longer able to play, Barret was gradually dropped from the group; unfortunate situation, as he was one of the most creative musicians in the group. This pear - odo David Gilmour returned from France and was invited to join Pink Floyd again . Roger Waters began to take charge of the group and soon released the second album, A Saucerful of Secrets (1968). The work is very well accepted and ends up proving that the Roger Waters began to take charge of the group and soon released the second album, A Saucerful of Secrets (1968). The work is very well accepted and ends up proving that the Roger Waters began to take charge of the group and soon released the second album, A Saucerful of Secrets (1968). The work is very well accepted and ends up proving that the group can move on without Barret. In 1969, they composed More, the soundtrack for the eponymous film (directed by Barbet Schroeder). Also in 1969, they released Ummagumma, a double album, one recorded in the studio and the other live. Start 70 Atom Heart Mother, which has a very curious title cover, displaying the image of a cow. Along with this, Gilmour and Waters tried to help their friend Syd, producing The Madcap Laughs and Barrets albums, both from 1970. However, Syd was unable to rehabilitate himself and his musical career came to an end. After that, he isolates himself and starts to dedicate himself exclusively for painting. In 1971 Meddle was released and the following year Obscured By Clouds, soundtrack for the film La Vallée (1972, still under the direction of Barbet Schroeder). Following the line of the film, Live at Pompeii (1972, directed by Adrian Maben) is produced, a collective documentary anthology shown on the street - in Pompeii, Italy. Despite several projects and releases, Pink Floyd's peak would come in 1973, with Dark Side of the Moon. It is a masterpiece unprecedented in history, which broke and created several records. It stayed in the US charts for over 14 years, was in the top 50 albums in England for over two years and in the top 100 for over eight years. A curiosity: EMI, the band's label, went so far as to build factories for the exclusive production of Dark Side of the Moon, the demand was so great. The album had the participation of the respected sound engineer - very Alan Parsons, who was fundamental in the production of this symbolic work. Songs like "Time" and "Money" demonstrate the quality of the album. The next work would be very well accepted in the

- Nicio, due to strong CRA - toxic to the entertainment industry. However, after a while, the album received the recognition it deserved, being considered one of the best by Pink Floyd d. Wish You Were Here (1975) is a kind of homage to Syd Barret, who would have appeared dirty, bald and ragged in the studio where the band recorded. Due to the state of the former Pink Floyd member, his colleagues found it difficult to recognize him and were touched by the situation. The title "Wish You Were Here" (Mayest - you here), the band's most famous today, ended up giving the title track, which paid homage to the troubled Barret. The Animals (1977) was a work based on the book Farm Animals, George Orwell, who makes a serious cra - TICA of the capitalist system. This album accentuates the group's stage protest and psychedelia. Along with the Animals tour, the band members were working on side projects. David Gilmour released a self-titled album and Rick Wright released Wet Dream, both from 1978. Roger Waters has dedicated himself especially to Pink and is re-establishing itself as a down-to-earth group. After Dark Side... and Wish You Were Here it would be DIFA - imagine Pink Floyd producing work better or as good as the previous two. But, in 1979, The Wall appeared, a highly iconic work that criticized the educational system in England, in addition to portraying human frailties. The album's success was devastating. The tour's production was one of the most expensive and most spectacular in music history. The work was classified as a rock opera, like Tommy (1969), by The Who, and became a film of the same name in 1982, directed by Alan Parker. Like the album, the film was a huge success and was also considered a masterpiece. Roger Waters was considered primarily responsible for this phase of Pink Floyd's relationship with the rest of the group was not very good. The Final Cut (1983) is more a solo work by Waters than by Pink Floyd. The whole idea for the album and the compositions is his.

Rick Wright was alienated from the group by Waters and it exacerbated the relationship problems between him and his colleagues. In 1985 this decides to leave Pink Floyd, David Gilmour as new there - der. So there is a legal battle between Gilmour and Waters over ownership of the Pink Floyd name, with Gilmour the victor. Wright was brought back into the fold and soon they released A Momentary Lapse of Reason (1987), considered one of Floyd's weakest works. Waters began his solo career and released Radio KAOS and When the Wind Blows, both from 1978. The last record recorded by Pink Floyd was The Division Bell (1994). Before that, in 1988, the live album Delicate Sound of Thunder was released. In 1995, Pulse was released, also live. After this work, several compilations were published, namely: Echoes: The Best of Pink Floyd (2001), the most famous. At the end of the 90s and Ina - 2000 cio Roger stays on tour, playing songs from his solo career and classic Pink Floyd in very popular concerts by CRA - ethics and public. They even performed here in Brazil, in 2002, in the cities of Porto Alegre, Rio de Janeiro and São Paulo. David Gilmour didn't sit still either. In 2001 he recorded an acoustic festival at the Royal Albert Hall (which has no - no link with known acoustic promoted by MTV) and the participation of Rick Wright, a longtime friend of Pink Floyd. And to everyone's surprise, in July of this year Pink Floyd, whose members have been separated for over 20 years, reunited for a live performance at Live Aid Event 8 "" was held in support of the fight against hunger in Africa . There's no need to look far to see the traces Pink Floyd has left on the music scene, from mega-productions to inventive CD covers, the band artistry exudes from all sides, the complexity, the excellence, the precision and creativity of the members of Floyd, either in the composition process or in the production of the shows, established innovative musical techniques and standards, which broke with any other established paradigm and are used today by several groups. Pink Floyd is music, history and art.

I want to say with my words that music can be the beginning of a new season and we can find paradise fully in many aspects because God proposes to us that we are made of light and that we pass only a socialist in which hypocrisy does not exist in the worlds of the fittest , as they are unlimited when there are desires hidden in words that extend, joke, chosen soul and love, leaving life as something superlative that we see death as perhaps a cross-cutting essence in our destinies that smoothly accelerates us into various goals of submission to earning all the various bribes of life so that at the end of the landing we can become even younger and we will find our best friends and our loves were preserved in extended truths because life will be fantastic because we are stewards of an existence where we have never lacked the noblest desire of and we will precede life, but we will remain alive and intact in the auto attributes that the world favors us because we can be like a god in truths and predominances that life will not forget because every second we learn to live and we will conquer the world of the weakest because we are strong and we will remain alive in death that maybe it's a way to preserve us from life that somewhere is younger and stronger and that's why for us and for us we will say that we will keep our love and our feelings with our souls that we have remained alive forever and here I leave in a few words my sovereignty over my philosophies having dreamed and contemplated my life for all my dear and illustrious friends and that one day we could really, but yes, bring us here or somewhere.

I want to thank you for this work that I did with a lot of love about a musical quality of describing life in a more harmonious context of prescribing all my notion and feeling of seeing the more composed and modern life of my future more simplified and updated in a qualified literature that we can say how well we are able to show our theory of a philosophy that unfolds in a space of a deeper feeling in which monarchy stands in all the formulas of being to live, to describe life musically. This god saved the angels from feeling who were off the earth looking for happiness and love in mortals who absorbed the fire and life seed of rage. I thank God for this work and that everyone can feel my quality and my philosophy regarding the musical effect of the prescription of life itself. Hugs!

Perhaps we can identify with all the events that marked an era of glory and great trajectories in which Brazil, in turn, shows itself for the first time on the podium in a list that tells all the stories of the best climates between sports and events in which we debated on television and social networks the final objectives and the beginning of a great generation that was in the history of many athletes today who made their careers in Brazilian football the best world football championships and that everything is formalized until the present day because we show all the history and commitments in a list of facts and conquests that established a great evolution in the economy of our country, improving all our stories in which many young people in the middle of their careers have achieved the world record in sport where everything is the letter of the democracy of our country is achieved Yes, in which they are examples of a suffering and fighting nation that was enshrined in soccer cup competitions, achieved five achievements: 1958, 1962, 1970, 1994 and 2002 and the first world cup took place on July 13, 1930 with the great inauguration of football in Brazil where today we can see that everything has to work and sweat a lot to show that our nation starts with good training of great and perfect athletes who, by the luck of a good class, dedicated themselves to the best of all times being great players and goalkeepers who reached the best classification in an all-expenses-paid framework and a good physical training in what we can call the 90 ° degrees in which Brazil is faced with all its feats socialized in an outline of true champions in expansion that made our country the great and extraordinary competitive history of Brazilian football in which everything is fighting and all events are still formalizing the course to show how we are winning and that Brazil is a country of struggles and that we are improving among the best social classes our love and dedication this Fact 'a Brazilian people most played in the world where the trajectory is to show a little of our country and that Brazil is a country that has always shown its nobility between a past that speaks of adolescence to the present day and we are the best!

In the first place, I want to dedicate this work to God and second to those who were great fabulous heroes who contributed to the Brazilian national progress and who we keep an eye on what they did and what they are because we are true champions and lions. Who plays football. A constructive class in our country in which we still win each year as proof and achievements of great efforts that took us to the future that filled us with eternal memories of a past that was formalized in a great moment of great eternal champions and that all the lessons remain that we must never cross our arms because it is never too late and we have just passed childhood to the myth, a future that awaits us as perfect athletes and great champions and I want to thank all my authors as a writer who welcome me here from a perfect and honest sportsman that my country loves life and from all the people who love and keep me my best hugs and thank you!

I am referring to a more or less adventurous journey in which I put all my theory of a perfect artist on a boat of fables and scientific concepts that marked a time when I studied and revealed various sciences that I had always had in mind for a scientific and dreamy time. ,visionary to untangle life in a more global atmosphere that will reveal to us in the future the best discovery of a small writer about his phases and contradictions of living and understanding the relativities of life and life in an unprecedented classification of a socialist concept that opened the eyes poles of a paradise in which I built an atlas of emotions that I have always had in my formulations for the preservation of life and its knowledge in which I am a supposedly studious man in whom I have always sought an ark of great values that my soul ascends with a portal of dreams and ideas that, studying the universe,I feel that they are part of it and even being able to gather everything I have in a perfect contradiction and more qualified to live and feel life as it is splendid and that we can live happily ever after and that the deficiencies are just remnants of 'a generation who have not yet learned to see life as it is and to understand the scientific origin of the universe I describe some things as a dream in which I am a scientist unraveling the mysteries of life and I intend to thank God for this book made and created by me and thank you to all my readers. Hope is the only thing that dies and we learn to build life with your Templars and your soul throughout all the times we learn to be happy with life!

I want to thank you again for my work deepened theoretically from an analysis of my capacity in which I put in this science book in which my philosophy and my psychology approached a school field to more intuitively preserve our abilities in which we believe. and that we created to be and serve as a lesson for everyone in life because logic can be and be closer to our origins of research and vision of life because it is full of dreams and fantasies that can take us somewhere far from the earth and that we can apprehend and see better how beautiful nature is and that we cherish our lives forever somewhere in paradise and many thanks to this publisher and my sincere hugs to all!

I just want to say in my own words that we identify with our soul when there is real evidence that we really love our lives and I want to say that there is a rotating force in each of us that no one else can. - to be seen and who can feel it because it has remained according to our superior self that projects itself as if by magic with good intentions showing its constructive side that is realistic and does not see the dark inequalities that always want to absorb the human being as small things without qualities we don't borrow not paying attention to things that are not alive because they are not part of the movement of life that we usually say we are almost perfect because we always have to turn our attention to the day and night where we can make our deepest intimacies be born on the flower of nature that can lead us to the true paradise that I leave here in a few words and with honesty that our value can direct us to the doors of a more advantageous place than we exhale and gives us more light that we can really identify with the true supreme nature that is real, faithful and who really makes us live and be happy because everyone in life is happy even if he doesn't show simplicity in his attitudes because God created love and peace can really infect us with affection at any time that we won't stop fighting evil of life that is imperfection and we will always build the source of youth with our qualities that we respect life and always seek to benefit from pleasure and we should never cross our arms in front of the truth because we would not go tomorrow we will find the true explanation that we live happily here or anywhere in the world because we go through a passing shower that will take us somewhere correctly otherwise even if things get different but we will never lose our realities of what we were and what we did because we are part of this paranoid universe that you leave behind feeling that it is the best stored and let what we do to show one day that it exists somewhere hidden inside you, paradise can be more realistic and preserved because we are close to almost everything and we never forget where our quality lives because we are very positive about the disabled who are insolent in the world in which we must always build the foundations of love and peace on the platform of life that we will always need and I want to dedicate this book that I made as a testament to all my generosity and my character as a man happy that I saw life in a metaphysics paradise can be more realistic and preserved because we are close to almost everything and we never forget where our quality lives because we are very positive about the disabled who insolent in the world we must always build the foundations of love and peace on the platform of life of that we will always need and I want to dedicate this book that I made as proof of all my generosity and my character as a happy man who saw life in a metaphysics paradise can be more realistic and preserved because we are close to almost everything and we never forget where our quality lives because we are very positive about the disabled who insolent in the world we must always build the foundations of love and peace on the platform of life of that we will always need and I want to dedicate this book that I made as proof of all my generosity and my character as a happy man who saw life in a metaphysics

Be happy in divine paradise or in our intimacy we build with the eternal fire of God on our thoughts that really teaches us to achieve and create something of value in our lives and that you have all my affection and a big hug to all my family and friends and readers. Thanks!

I mean, with a lot of love, I made this book proof that human existence never gave up as long as we remain very arrogant about our views, in which we just honestly enjoy the life that can be. A reformulation of the dreams we learn from ourselves to achieve all our goals. Proof that the past is more constructive and the future is more superlative, that we put the good things in their place and show our values as concrete proof that life does not stop at its own pace as the universe does. builds and destroys itself on the metaphysical aspects in which it involves and promotes us in all well-planned circumstances that make life built with death, while death gives us more life like a sounding board that plays its rhythm like the sidereal and mental universe in which all things are created in the alchemical spirit and are based on generalized attitudes that can establish the life of the human being in your will and in creations in which you also propose to create something sufficient for a lifetime, I want to thank God and all my friends for this work done and done with an educational proposal for all lovers of good literature including us assimilate dynamics by writing about mechanics. Alternatively, we rely on the thought and feeling of our constructive and realistic attitudes to make life a fantastic transformation of the ideas and fascinations that we give as proof that science is not based on the subtle movement of the soul that we can pass on to all this water gives and we create in the depths of our consciences that we extract from our subconscious with love and affection the life that cannot be morbid but that is more alive in all the existences that we contemplate over all the affections and functions of life. A hug and a big thank you to all my readers!

I want to dedicate this book with much love and respect to all the Hollywood artists and musicians who for a driving reality that everyone here is like a true test and a read that is remembered how honest, adventurous, loving and even dramatic people would be in some setbacks to validate his life and enjoy his pleasures that for some circumstance of life put his own life in danger, since we cannot in this term refer to enjoying the life and blessedness of God in paradise stronger than are almost all may be inferior as nature teaches us the complicity of living more about all the things that God created and we have made men and women at a certain point of existence where we by the circumstances of life in abeyance because all the doors that our wills are rejuvenated our ages because everything is about a moment when we learn to value our lives years of arrogance when we weaken against certain things, actions, I hope that life offers us an image socialized in the youth that we live at each moment to empty ourselves into a reversal of light that makes us act on everything that will certainly please us and that we deceive ourselves and are absorbed with the human potential that can become contain in our capital in favor of certain adventures and pleasures of all the metamorphoses of life where we pay tribute to everyone's generation and trying to achieve the greatest and favorite means of living in life conformations we lack dreams, images and desires in a life that maybe might have found in our favorite love about them. Other advantages of being happy in paradise and that we can only dedicate ourselves to our imagination so that we can one day find the right one to meet so many adventures and desires that make it simple for us to do the best and we will give the best importance because we will be strong and maybe death that can tell us how strong we are because we can't stop chasing our dreams that become realities and builds on some things that can become heroines against us and that one day we can really find our desires and dreams with more quality.

I want to thank you with a lot of love and respect that for me all the logic that I learned is prescribed here and I say that happiness could have been fostered in another way because we learned to better value life in relation to a reversal of light and happiness than that more present in our love and calls for affection and adventure in all our dreams and may God not only enlighten us forever and may we say how much better we are and that let's learn from life what we do and we are not enthusiastic for not knowing the world and for being able to be much happier one day. Thanks!

In a few words, I want to underline a length that is beyond my words of an explanation in an unprecedented great determination in which I saw a major point of my conceptions about a profane and qualified literature in which they support me with the feelings turned to my soul. which rises fabulously in a context where beautiful words roll around as a mission and example of Good condition, conservation, means of salvation, elimination of danger, salvation. Health, physical well-being, healing, good moral state, moral health, improvement, Greetings, greetings in which introducing my words in dedication and describing all my euphoria and my wisdom that remain like a spilled parchment and that I removed from my own grammatical essence a Gregorian translation that simplifies all my theory in Portuguese, mine a biography in which I present to you here with or and with dedication a personalized world written in a formulation of ideas that have become literary fables of which I am a poet, philosopher in which I describe my whole personality and my love for my stories as a writer that sees life more simplified and shaped by iron and fire from a beneficial generalization that I use here as a philosophical and literary book for all my dear and illustrious friends from Recanto das Letras, which has remained like absinthe for all my quality of writing and a writer that I keep as a support so that everyone can learn and conquer the clairvoyant side of life with this book written from the bottom of my soul for everyone. Here I leave my heart and affection in all my capacity.

First of all, I want to thank God for this work done by me, which here conquered the metaphysical side of literature in which all my chronicles of a more qualified study and reflection are rolled up and translated into the Greek language, which has already been formalized in Portuguese , the most beautiful lessons written and classified by me in which I tell and describe my chronicles in order to expand a more qualified area of my literature as a vision of seeing better and seeing the world with diligence and writing with much love and quality to all my dear friends and people who like to apprehend something more relatively classified among beautiful words that here are like an ark in which we can appreciate and understand all my quality as a writer and friend and thank you all!

I want to get closer to my youth that always deepens in a space that has always materialized me and made me seek with my best intuition the superlative realities of makes us great men in search of great achievements for life in which we are the result of a constitutional pleasure for the mere circumstance of living and being happy for the simple and realistic way of learning to value our lives and I want it to be very clear that everything I learned it's back in all my philosophy contained in this book that opened the door to the real future I hope for. Love and happiness for all my life.

A kiss and a big hug to all my readers and friends who have seen and still like my books. Thank you very much!

I would like to show you this great book made and prepared by me that I did with great honor and satisfaction that served as a support to know the body, mind and soul that we seek here for an existence in life that I keep as a guarantee of my life about illnesses and illnesses that the world is disconnected from the reality of life itself and I want feel the nobility of my studies on life behind the happiness of living and being happy that theoretically involves these countless pages by great erudite masters of science and a great curiosity for my wisdom that appears alongside my book that goes inside as an emanation of light on life and its contexts to live and be happy in full health.

I want to emphasize and show the readers that this little book that I made and created is an extraordinary memory that I keep with love and affection so that everyone can read it and understand with extraordinary firmness that the life inside us is something very precious for human beings and children of God and knowing how to understand every detail said in those little sheets that were born from a feeling and a thought that life is like an eternal sounding board of never playing the same music or the same life that is a constant pulse throughout life.

I want everyone to like it and I know they will love my perspective that I mentioned. This book was made like a light that emerged from the blue of the sky and sprouted on earth like a rose transforming a man from the sidereal like a dream that we saw, kept and felt when we saw it.

It's a memory forever and they can use everything and understand everything in this book because life is a reconstruction of essential work done and created by nature and the universe built it.

If the flame of fire that burns and lights like sunlight that warms and illuminates the whole earth and we through your children of blood and heaven feel and see that the life you gave from the beginning was made in man or by origin of man, the earth was made.

Perhaps the most fluid waters from the sources dominated by the Undines or the genius of the subterranean waters of the earth have made a flow of great value in man.

Perhaps the hottest fire and most destructive salamanders supposed to work on man is to invigorate forever for the rest of his life.

Perhaps the air that makes a great cyclone and swirls over the earth to frighten and kill man, the air with its sylphs that oxygenate man himself on earth that aligns with four constructive elements of nature in order to be destroyed and rebuilt in man com we value being a small universe from Cariri to so many transformations on earth, being all for an impulse of life in parallel with eternity never forgotten.

This book serves as a virtue in life to spread the fire of the weakest and most suffering and to ask for the strongest and most severe fire for everyone in life.

I believe that in the light of vision we will understand the notion of life and the creation of the universe that together we can meet and see that life reveals to us through our great efforts the true quality of life and through the hidden secrecy of the royalty of the divinity to live gods, geniuses in a missing link that reveals itself in us.

Dear and illustrious friends, I have walked a long time in my life with great prosperity and affection for the eternal nature that has always surrounded us with a great infinite variety of beautiful natural images in different places, both dwelling in you and not dwelling in you who are my heart and took away the love and affection for life that little by little I understand and value the environment walking under attack, the man with his greed inhuman, abstract and ambitious in the face of our views of seeing life and feeling that everything is dying and that this is expendable in the selfish and sinful eyes of people who see life differently compared to people who still want to see the world prosper in the future without so much destruction and lack of social education that distorted human life and today are daily examples of a black and lifeless mortal bond that ends our own lives and the love of nature that feeds us with food, the love of life , integrity and peace. I would like to say with a few words from a good citizen, curricula of an order that puts an end to all questions of life on earth. I affirm that in life there are moments of joy and sadness in relation to the constructive and destructive phases that make up the entire universe with nature, which is the architect and creator and devastator of life. Beauty is an appreciable and ever more valuable factor, it is a creative example that makes us love and effectively dedicate ourselves to loving it and always learning from it, however much it remains in our memories as beauties. Images that we have seen and liked. Thanks!

I want to thank you with all my heart for carrying in my heart some real proofs and laws in all my life that I have been looking for what I dreamed and wished for what I gained and what my personal intentions turned around. To a world where I was captivated in the silence of life on a journey of adventures of dreams and fantasies that I myself brought to life through a personal character that I carry from my unforgettable childhood until today to a realistic and humorous life that I showed love , wishes and hope that one day I will find the true peace of mind that I wanted and I carry with me all the memories of a young man turned to a harmonious, understanding and honest nature with my personality that I diligently unfolded and learned from life what life taught me he taught.

Maybe today I can't be as young as I used to be, but it's very likely that age doesn't make a difference because I always do the same things I always do, and old age is a pain to stay young because I'm still young and I'm looking for great adventures as always, because there is an emotional factor that weighs us down and builds us up and the best thing is to be young forever. I am what I think and I do what I can!

I want to thank and give my best proof of my conscience and my experience for the happy moments I spent in a life full of moral, constructive and emotional recognition that I obtained here as an authentic writer of myself who sees life more spiritually than materially and everything is fine when we recognize ourselves because there is in each one of us a force capable of rocking the world and you as much as we are subject to an emotional relativity that makes you a god or a man and that is what we call the power of the mind.

I want to thank my dear friends and readers of the letter corner for always being with me to read and honor my books and texts, which for me is like a divine grace.

It is with divine grace that I employ here an infinity of lessons that have followed the purest and most faithful paths that life has taken me with a past magnitude of a more optimistic commitment that made me and educated me with the minimum of simplified education for a purpose in life like a dictation of words for a reunion of phrases that gave me a lot of intuition for my writing career when I quickly began to relate to an effective objective of living and occupying my time with activities that became treasures for me from my adolescence that recognition of mine with literature I wasn't very good and today I'm a fabulous writer whom I thank for my determination for the lesson and for the writing that I always took into account in a creative and personalized commitment in my life with my own writing of the words that greeted me when I was 34 years old and learned and improved my dictations giving me a logic that is perfect and literary even today that I make books and texts in the corner of letters is for me a pleasure to have many readers who like my point of view and constantly comment on my site as proof of good grammar and lesson.

I did this work with a lot of love and affection that would be useful to everyone to deepen a little the space of this book that is addressed to everyone with love and affection in my affectionate wishes that I offer with a lot of love and friendship. Literature today can be the space of young people and it is the best reconstruction for peaceful and moral learning for all those who love to read and write their compassion and their emotions for life, which is a literary mirror. I want to make it clear that my intention here is to convey to you a part of me that I describe from my adolescence until today in the verses and in the pleasures of an infinite that I created in the past to have a literary notion today that was a very big dream that I had to show everyone my classification of ideas and my point of view that gave me immense affection for literature until today that I am a fabulous writer and loved by all who love my classes and my books. I want to thank God for giving me the intention and quality to venture out and exercise a faithful commitment to myself and others to tell works and lessons based on literature, philosophy and psychology. From a writer who still sees life as totally constructive for A Hora. Put into practice the good deeds and the lessons and may my eternal love be with you, fruit of the ardent pleasure of a friendly and happy description. For the quality I get from fixing life and nature with infinite space, as well as scientific thinking and a philosophy of life that brings me to life as a more realistic visionary in every dream step I take and always found at the end of a scholarship a vital and happy light telling me that when life makes us dream and feel pleasure, everything becomes real and immortal to our life that never stops.

Who is immortal like the great universe.

First of all I want to thank God for giving me life and also the heavenly entities for giving me the intelligence to seek lives and lives from a place to dream and be a god like maybe in the old days that man lived in heaven and became became a god.

It is with great dedication that I come to underline this dedication as an emanation of events that occurred, a memory of a past memory, of the history of a city that marked and triumphed over several cities like so many. That have always built ties and the sovereignty of a people that knows how to contribute from a stronger side that does not correspond to the minority with the majority in which it is raised by the race of a tradition that continues from a people that knows where the hottest word is reveals itself like absinthe in the soul of so many conquerors it has and honors it as a beneficial tradition animated by certain rational prostitutes and much more qualified than a name that stands out in several countries for its tradition and for the education of a hardworking people, classification of a citizenship that by order and justice preserves the environment and always value our traditions of a people who know what they are doing in a city established and respected with benevolent and traditional love of 'a society that is more than superlative and intelligent with a concept more centered on socialism, which is today the real key to a public relationship between friends and social workers who always value and integrate the best educational bases of the discipline for the development of the city and its inhabitants. I want to congratulate Olinda and make it clear that among the countless words in this book, there is a term that says that love is not just a gesture or an expression that makes us react to our most intimate points.

I kept in my soul a traditional fire that in my words contains countless phrases where love is more present and contagious for our origins, traditions, families, people and friends that have always served as proof of a recognition of benefactor in which we have always distinguished ourselves in a way prestigious and cultural heritage of a people that always conquered us when they loved us because the true example of citizenship is always in the soul of us and our people who want and always wanted to see Olinda grow like this. Today, still thriving in a consistent way that love is the work of a people who always want to sail as beautifully as before the stage that tells us a rich story, because our grandparents always transcended by much or too little discipline to make friends with a job that has always infected us with memories of a very family that has always been the Serb with love and dedication to society that has always left us with eternal memories of a rich, traditional and happy people in which we can be and show ourselves our qualities and our greatness in which we travel the world with the same simplicity to see and be with friends who transmitted to them the serene quality and affection of being always happy and always showing what we are and what we do because we feel more comfortable with our qualities and perfections than today we are more than great and eternal citizens making and living life always better and always seeking the best opinions of a people who are always in favor and provide us with true friendship.

I appreciate this book as an introduction to the true story of my life and that of my family and to all those people from Olinda who have always dedicated themselves with love and affection to our best memories and qualities of an always happy and traditional people and Olinda.

There are memories of love and a deep past that contaminate our souls, as there are also memories of a contagious brotherhood of eternal and old friends who have always shown us how happy they are and how they are. Still make life more than living in an old and old city that created us and made us great eternal men.

I want with a lot of love and a lot of interest my view on life and death to be more focused on love and hate, because we can identify how dominated we are and how we can dominate ourselves. In an inversion of light that gives us the ability to tell how unmotivated we are by the natural orders of nature that dominate us, inevitable masters of a constellation of love and hate that makes us feel that we have crossed the barriers of life and time because we meet hell and heaven at a point of activities resulting from a dominant existence that makes us love and hate until the end of existence in our best and worst moments when we pacify an existence of life and death that makes us deeply feel the realities of life because life is a classification of the positive and the negative vibrations in which the human being can contain himself, repress himself and classify himself in his reality in his physical and mental state that he is shocked by the destructive force of destiny that makes us feel the good and bad intentions that life offers us and I mean that we have to fight against certain activities that one day we can reveal where we can be and behave in the best way to live and be happy far from imperfections of life.

I want to thank all those who feel that my logic is the expression of the whole context that I decipher in this book and that will serve as support and intuition in our lives. Thanks!

First of all I want to thank God for this opportunity to be here at this moment with lots of love and health, showing with great conviction that everything we are going through is like a rain of love and hate over our lives and that one day we will be able to of understanding the case and chance of existence and the struggle of our lives for life in which our destinies can tell how faithful and careful we have been in our ways of thinking and acting in accordance with the requirements of the natural laws that govern the planets and humans of beings in a context of life and overcoming all obstacles in our life because we are inevitable in the laws of life, but we can be more avoidable when we are and we will try to understand every reaction and relationship in life.

Many thanks to all my dear readers and friends who enjoy the best of optimism in living and understanding the most real cases overloaded!

It is with great satisfaction and real understanding that I leave here a list of several texts that will serve as a talented anthology of the things that are preserved in life by a realistic simplicity of living and believing that today's world can change with our thoughts. and efforts that will identify us tomorrow to know the true value we have and for which we don't care and that can remind us who we are and what we can do for the future that awaits us as an alarm to be more careful with life and creative and that we can say very clearly that our understandings are more for our fantasies and dreams that have always consciously made us have a discipline that few people maintain and simply believe that together we can change the world not only by one employee,

I know that if we cross our arms and don't care about our good intentions in the future, maybe we don't realize what we could have done and I think that attitude is worthless, because what it does is put our actions into practice and still our creations that one day reached an understanding in which people will not stumble and will embrace a new activity that is more passive and of good understanding that could open the doors of people with disabilities to those people who do not see the world better and have begun to discover a life without precedents of wisdom that deserved to be known and understood.

Because I wish everyone who reads this book to look for the bases of the lessons for a more optimistic reasoning and to believe that together we can change something perfect that makes us much better.

friendly and happy people who in everything and everything starts as fullness to make the cycle of friends a poster in which we can have the capacity to have rural and social fertility so that we can drive a rudder that can row from the strongest to the weakest is in the which it is possible to establish the patriotism of social confidences for the progress of citizenship of a people who love more their own will to exercise success between a penny. Truths that always flourish in acts of love, camaraderie, work and honesty that are consecrated forever in the most present future of each one for the social well-being that always shows itself an exemplary classification of a citizenship that, through order and justice, preserves the environment and always value our traditions of a people who knows what he's doing in a city established and conceptualized with the benevolent and traditional love of a more than superlative and intelligent society to the concept more centered on socialism, which is today the true key to a public relationship between friends and social workers who always value and integrate the best discipline among the educational foundations for the development of the city and its inhabitants. I want to congratulate the victory and clarify that among the countless words in this book, there is a term that says that love is not just a gesture or an expression that makes us react on our most intimate points that is more involving and existing by ranking a term that uses a single class of opinion of what our love can be and be in victory because victory is synonymous with peace.

I kept in my soul a traditional fire that in my words contains countless phrases where love is more present and contagious for our origins, traditions, families, people and friends that have always served as proof of a recognition of the benefactor in which we have always found ourselves. It came out in a prestigious and cultural way from a people that always conquered us when they loved us because the true example of citizenship is always in the soul of us and our people who want and always wanted to see Vitória grow as it is today. always thriving consistently that love is the work of a people who always want to sail as beautifully as before the pass tells us a rich story of how our grandparents always transcended by much or too little a discipline of making friends with a job they always infected us with memories of a very familiar past that has always been the serb with love and dedication. To the society that has always left us with eternal memories of a rich, traditional and happy people that we can be and show ourselves our qualities and our greatness in which we traveled the whole world with the same simplicity of seeing and being with friends who transmitted to us the serene quality and affection of always being happy and of always showing what we are and what we are what we do because we we feel more at ease with our qualities and our perfections that today we are more than great and eternal citizens making and living an increasingly better life and always seeking the best opinions of a people that will always be in favor and providing us with true friendship.

I would like to thank this book as an introduction to the true story of my and my family's life and to all those Victorians who always devoted themselves with more morality and affection to our best memories and qualities of an always happy and traditional Victorian people.

There are memories of love and a deep past that contaminate our souls, as there are also memories of a contagious brotherhood of eternal and old friends who have always shown us how happy they are and how they are. Still make life more than living in an old and old city that created us and made us great eternal men.

I want to get closer to my youth that always deepens in a space that has always materialized me and made me seek with my best intuition the superlative realities of life that maybe today I will be able to show the best of myself and my words that are written in a magic circle of my achievements and my losses that reached the end of days because I achieved the greatest leap in seeing life as beautiful and fundamental to our perfect qualities that always strengthen us from everyday perfections to a more relaxed and relaxed conduct conducive to seeing life as it should be without so many arguments in our daily life because we are perfect and complete in the universal and moral planes that load us with forms and forces against the remakes of a past for which we seek an answer at the end of the tunnel to simplify our love for our happiness for those who they were and will arrive today with more parties and favoring us with qualities superior to the old days that will fill us with a blessed glory that makes us great men in search of great conquests for the life in which we are the result of a constitutional pleasure for the mere circumstance of live and be happy by the simple and realistic way of learning to value our lives and I want it to be very clear that everything I learned is back in all my philosophy contained in this book that opened the door to the true future that I hope for love and happiness perall my life.

A kiss and a big hug to all my readers and friends who have seen and still like my books. Thank you very much!

I have kept in my life an explanation to go through a space that will take me to heaven, because everything in my life is really like a dream that can commit us to fabulous achievements for a lifetime and that are more perfect and idealistic with our wishes because we are original people who seek a successful explanation of the most beautiful achievements for the future that makes me go through the most beautiful special creations of any kind for a sovereign foundation of a man indignant with the pleasure of knowing that life is a contradiction of affections and invariable subsections that make us consistent and insignificant lords who are aware of the existence of life no matter how much it is lived and coated in white and black lace over our illusions that maybe one day let's be ourselves and tell ourselves that we are free and live equal in time for a fascinating question of our existence that for a lifetime.

I want to thank you for this book that I completed this year, a fraternization of more elaborate theoretical concepts and fascinated by my sentimental energy that reminded me of how much I suffered and learned to be more than a man in life for my moral and intellectual better. Classification that passively instructed me in a conduct to dominate my own life that has served as a shield for me and a school for me as a moral dictatorship reflected in life in my personality and I love my life. Thank you all!

Dear and illustrious friends, I have walked for a long time in my life with great prosperity and affection for the eternal nature that has always surrounded us with a great infinite variety of beautiful natural images in different places, both inhabiting you and not living you that took my heart, love and affection for life that I gradually came to understand and value the environment that is hurt by man with his greed exploring various forests and forest reserves causing flora and fauna in different countries of the world as we do today I don't know where this will end with this deforestation harmful to the life of animals and man on earth to be killed and destroyed for industrial purposes and the illegal trade in wood that is not touched by the big farmers and the big industrialists to install agricultural machinery to deforest magnificent and enchanted forests with their tropical green with beautiful colored roses in the middle of several gigantic trees with their valleys enchanted by a satisfaction and creation of living nature that makes us crackle our most sincere hours that we seek in the middle of lifecolorful roses in the middle of several gigantic trees with their valleys enchanted by a satisfaction and creation of living nature that makes us crackle our most sincere hours that we seek in full lifecolorful roses in the middle of several gigantic trees with their valleys enchanted by a satisfaction and creation of living nature that makes us crackle our most sincere hours that we seek in full life that we captivate everything for peace and love the world of beautiful landscapes that come in danger we remain silent with life as a setback of the awakening of the light before us with the inhuman, abstract and ambitious difficulties of everyday life against our views of seeing life and feeling that everything is dying and that it is not necessary in the selfish and sinful eyes of people to see life differently than people who still want to see the world prosper in the future without so much destruction and lack of social education that distorted human life and which are today daily examples of a deadly and lifeless black bond that ends our own life and the love of nature that feeds us with food, the love of life, integrity and peace. I would like to say with a few words from a good citizen, loyal and honest that we can change our lives because tomorrow the outside world will thank us and only what we did today tomorrow will show us what we are today because nature is radically revealed by a law of majestic composition that takes us into account everything that we have already done in life as a return to resume and bring everything back like a sounding board that plays its endless chant in CV of an order that puts an end to all questions of life on earth. I say that in life there are moments of joy and sadness in relation to the constructive and destructive phases that make up the entire universe with nature that is the creative and devastating architect of life. Beauty is an appreciable and ever more valuable factor, it is a creative example that makes us love and effectively dedicate ourselves to loving it and always learning from it, however much it stays in our memories as the beauties. Images that we have seen and liked. Thanks!

I want to thank you with all my heart for taking in my heart some real proofs and laws in all my life that I have searched for what I dreamed and desired for what I gained and my personal intentions turned to a world in which I have been captivated in the silence of life in an adventurous journey of dreams and fantasies that I gave myself to live by a personal character that I carry ten from my unforgettable childhood until today to a realistic and humorous life that I took the test of love, desires and hope of one day to find the true peace of mind that I wanted and to take with me all the memories of a young man turned to a harmonious, understanding and honest nature with my personality that I diligently unfolded and learned from life what life taught me.

Maybe today I can't be as young as I used to be, but it's very likely that age doesn't make a difference because I always do the same things I always do, and old age is a pain to stay young because I'm still young and I'm looking for great adventures as always, because there is an emotional factor that weighs us down and builds us up and the best thing is to be young forever. I am what I think and I do what I can!

I want to thank and give my best proof of my conscience and my experience for the happy moments I spent in a life full of moral, constructive and emotional recognition that I obtained here as an authentic writer of myself who sees life more spiritually than materially and everything is fine when we recognize ourselves because there is in each one of us a force capable of rocking the world and you as much as we are subject to an emotional relativity that makes you a god or a man and that is what we call the power of the mind.

I want to thank my dear friends and readers of the letter corner for always being with me to read and honor my books and texts, which for me is like a divine grace.

Thank you all!

I would like to firmly emphasize and point out to readers that this little book that I made and created is an extraordinary memory that I keep with love and affection so that everyone can read and understand with extraordinary firmness that the life within us is something very precious to be human beings and children of God and knowing how to understand every detail said in those little sheets that were born from a feeling and a thought that life is like an eternal sounding board of never playing the same music or the same life that is a constant pulse to the lifelong.

I want everyone to like it and I know they will love my perspective that I mentioned. This book was made like a light that emerged from the blue of the sky and sprouted on earth like a rose transforming a man from the sidereal like a dream that we saw, kept and felt when we saw it.

This book was produced on December 1, 2004.

It is a memory forever and they can use and understand everything in this book because life is a reconstruction of essential work done and created by nature and the universe built it.

It is with divine grace that I employ here a myriad of lessons that followed the purest and most faithful paths that life took me with a past magnitude of a more optimistic commitment that made me and educated me with the simplified minimum education for a purpose in life as a saying of words to a reunion of phrases that gave me a lot of intuition for my career as a writer when I quickly began to have an effective objective of living and occupying my time with activities that became treasures of my adolescence, this recognition of mine with literature did not have much quality and today I am a fabulous writer whom I thank for my determination for the class and for writing that I always took into account a creative and personalized engagement of my life with mine . Written words that greeted me when I was 34 years old and learned and improved my dictations giving me a perfect literary logic even today, as I make books and texts in the corner of letters, it is a pleasure for me to have many readers who like my point of view and I constantly comment on my site as proof of good grammar and lesson.

I did this work with a lot of love and affection that it would be useful for everyone to go a little further in the space of this book that is addressed to everyone with love and affection in my affectionate wishes that I offer with a lot of love and friendship.

Today's literature can be the space for young people and it is the best reconstruction for peaceful and moral learning for all who love to read and write their compassion and emotions for life, which is a literary mirror.

I want to clarify that my intention here is to convey to you a part of myself that I describe from my adolescence until today in verses and the pleasures of an infinite that I created in the past to have a literary notion today that was a very big dream that I had to show everyone my classification of ideas and my point of view that gave me immense affection for literature until today that I am a fabulous writer and loved by everyone who loves my classes and books.

I want to thank God for giving me the intention and the quality to venture out and exercise a faithful commitment to myself and with others to tell works and lessons based on a literature, a philosophy and a psychology of a writer who always sees life in a full and constructive way to then put good deeds and lessons into practice and may my eternal love be with you, fruit of the ardent pleasure of a friendly and happy description. Thank you all!

I wish with great pleasure and honor for my unforgettable work that I place like a golden parchment in the countless pages of this book, a perfection more centered on the artistic side that reveals itself in the future in an intrepid author and director of certain objectives than on a relative quality of the my dreams I immersed myself in an artistic philosophy of seeing life and at the same time contemplating it in which I live a more cultural and artistic character through an agglomeration of words and natural concepts that fully involve me with a way of life in which I seek more in my feelings for evidence of living in the harsh certainties and uncertainties of life's realities that I decipher in a more accurate sketch of a writer who sees life calmly and in relation to a cultural and traditionalist collection of a realistic memory of living and seeing life ,since it is characterized by different customs and personalities in a social environment that we dream and fantasize about the material pleasures of our own will, our own Self struggling in a commitment to relate to life and the beings that inhabit it.

I give life to each page of this book with a greater intention of looking for a list of facts that occur in full life and at the same time I want to decipher them in a more conductive and realistic way in which I practice on a subject. Exercising in countless pages the soul and essence of various factors in contradiction as the life emerges and subject them to cross and feel the life-related impulses that we are the seeds of that absinthe in the future to bring more reactions and socialist cultures about the demands created by the life of a psychological factor that accompanies us every hour for a few seconds when we are in relational activities with society that always pushes us to look for ways to live and progress in life because life is simply a reaction of struggle, art and culture on our egos that drive us in confrontations with real realities of life.

Now I want everyone reading this book to believe and feel that our Self is the home of our culture, however confused it may be with the simple fantasies created by life and that we feel that in everything we are a reaction of struggle.

I would like to say a few words of thanks for the introduction to a matter of facts that gave me the idea of writing a poetic book and that in different ways I am describing here a series of poems that will remain in the memory of all those who love me and who wanted to know more. about my sentimental side that I have as a light that crosses the darkness and rises to the heavens that leads me and illuminates me like a torch of burning fire that has no end because my life is a school of arts and discipline for my ego that comes in towards the future and is continually remaking itself with a bigger and more effective personality, what makes me more willing to live and be happy because of the way I take care of myself and myself and because I am a totally honest person who wants to see the world and everyone is always looking for a regeneration of all the stimuli and senses that hit the walls. more open doors and secrets of our hearts.

I want to thank God for having seen in my conscience a faithful man of good character and a perfect writer that my love is like a flame of fire that always recovers in the sunlight that always illuminates the world of imperfect consequences of life that wants to untie our nerves and comfort us with the weaknesses of life and may peace surround us like a magic circle and not turn us off so that in the end we meet and are eternally and great friends forever. A big hug to all my readers, both from the lyrics corner and from Google who love me and always give me their euphoric comments which I appreciate and give me more love and envy for what I write.

2003 the year of the prophecies that spread around the world that is mine and of your dreams that cross or cross the future and feel that in life a path of perfection and a light of reintegration that goes and that takes us to a happier place with a more positive and realistic lifestyle and a good understanding of things in a place that makes you dream.

May this place be a surface of beauty so that we can be what we should be or have as in a dream of love and happiness that captivates us towards the heavens and towards the light that made us and raised us to supreme wealth.

Whatever life, both material and spiritual, without love, the world would never happen again as a dream or an image created by the mind itself.

We reveal ourselves to others and to those who pacify us somewhere. May this place be stronger and more creative that encourages us to be at least happy and for the lifestyle.

Whether it's me, you or the person who dresses quality and that's wherever you are. Whether you or me!

If the flame of fire that burns and kindles like the light of the sun that warms and illuminates the whole earth and us by your children of blood and heaven, we feel and see that the life you gave from the beginning was made in man or by origin of man. the earth was made.

Perhaps the most fluid waters from the sources dominated by the Undines or the genius of the subterranean waters of the earth have made a flow of great value in man.

Perhaps the hottest fire and the most destructive salamanders supposed to act on man is to invigorate forever for the rest of his life.

Perhaps the air that makes a great cyclone and turns over the earth to frighten and kill man, the air with its sylphs that oxygenate man himself in the earth that aligns with 4 constructive elements of nature in a route to be destroyed and rebuilt in the man with value being a small universe from Cariri to so many transformations on earth, being all for an impulse of life in tandem with the never forgotten eternity.

This book serves as a virtue in life to spread the fire of the weakest and most suffering and to ask for the strongest and most severe fire for everyone in life.

I believe that in the light of vision we will understand the notion of life and the creation of the universe that together we can meet and see that life reveals to us through our great efforts the true quality of life and through the hidden secrecy of the royalty of the divinity to live gods, geniuses in a missing link that reveals itself in us.
Thanks!

I am a person who has always had the habit of preserving my nature, which always reveals to me in my culture and in my morals a peaceful and romantic feeling of a journey through time that marks a trajectory of habits, dreams and fantasies that for me is characterized by a passion for my life and for the past that served as a fantastic concept for me to review the old life and put it in a more lively environment where we can understand the infallible dynamics of life that makes time a list of events that occurred and left us with many memories of a people that transcends true love that always surprises us and gives us more love for our loved ones and qualifies personal creativity s as a deeply familiar richness.

I'm talking about a corner where we can all improve our personal knowledge and keep all the fantastic recognition of a perennial memory of fables and literary concepts on which we can build and feel close to the true origin of a revealed recognition. In the present that sees the future as an extraordinary lesson in the habits and creations of a true man who loves his life and his dreams that have been kept as a fable of creations and dynamic teachings for the recognition of all people who wish to learn the true logic and correction of our lives to have different well-qualified options from a dynamic and science-oriented writer in which a series of biographical and literary lessons were created from a concept of ideas focused on our daily life in a list of facts, weak giving space to a very real student dynamic and recognized Avel finances his constructive moral attitude and well connected to the rational knowledge of an audience that lives almost in social decomposition and we need more established and recognized support for a future of latitude, scheduled today in our homes perfect are the source of the most lucrative of our moral concepts, we always simplify our emptiness to never break decays and social imbalances that have no open challenge regarding our creative and positive teaching to transcribe the present, the past and the future that one day we will be able to know and pay for all our opinions as a bond of rational fertility and memories that have always been kept and archived for a long time to show everyone how realistic and progressive we are free with life and us we will give you an eternal past glories that we feel the great achievements of the vi ir and personal realities of a time of war, love, hate, fantasies, creations, desires and knowledge that I made my relativities a concept of ideas aiming at all relativities of life what a volunteer, fundamentally and theoretically completed me for a world of great personal relationships in which I am an intimate memory of an ancestor trapped in thousands of socialist and democratic environments between an educational artistic environment with psychological and philosophical bases of scientific knowledge of my generation in which I leave all the my nostalgia with my euphoria of a thoughtful and sentimental past of my emotions and all my love for life that are the real proof that my abilities will never be forgotten since they are productively eternalized on my blogger and my website, resurrecting my true image and my love throughout my life.

Recanto do Roberto would be classified as a continuous paradise of my fascinating creations and dreams as opposed to the stubborn and unreal life of the human being who seeks the truth of living and its fundamentals more related to the ideology of conquest of real life.

It is with great satisfaction and real understanding that I leave here a list of several texts that will serve as a talented anthology of things that are preserved in life by a realistic simplicity of living and believing that today's world can change with our thoughts and efforts that make us they will identify tomorrow so that we know the true value that we have and that we do not care about and that they can remind us of who we are and what we can do for the future that awaits us as an alarm to be more careful with life and creative and what can we say very clearly that our understandings are more for our fantasies and dreams that have always consciously made us have a discipline that few people maintain and I simply believe that together we can change the world not only by an employee, but by our understandings and creativity to add a list of facts, chronicles, thoughts and so on, from dust to wind.

I know that if we cross our arms and do not look for good intentions in the future, it may be without a feeling of what we could have done and I think that this attitude is worthless, because what counts is to put our actions into practice and always our creations that one day reached an understanding in which people will not stumble and will embrace a new more passive and more understanding activity that can open the doors of people with disabilities to those people who do not see the better world and began to discover a lifetime of unprecedented wisdom worth knowing and understanding.

Because I wish everyone who reads this blogger to seek lessons for a more optimistic reasoning and believe that together we can change something perfect that makes us much better.

Dear friends, my name is Roberto and I am a writer at Letras Recanto, Recanto do Roberto, thoughts and spirit of wisdom and I want to invite you all without obligation to take a look at this wonderful Blogger that has always changed the history of national writers by offering a space more open and correspondent with its fans and connoisseurs of texts that today constitute a circle of artists exhibiting arts with diverse chronicles, thoughts, phrases, poetry, acrostics, homages, prayers, images and so on. Literature in the country has been gaining more and more capacity, space and social intellectuality due to its literary foundations and knowledge that seek an unprecedented surface of ideas formed by great and beloved writers of all ages.

future with more capacity and a substantial return of an emotional commitment to the lessons of great authors and literary masters who will keep in your mind the most beautiful writings of great and perfect artists. Therefore, my dear friends, I would like to invite you to visit my website Recanto Do Roberto that follows. I am a writer at Recanto Das Letras and I want to invite you to read my books and texts in a great cultural formality that saved a sumptuous and adventurous memory in a more passive vocabulary of understanding notion that everything is in your hands without any L 'commitment just take a look, read and buy because they are books from the site itself for a price that suits you and you will bring many books and PDFs that will show you everything that life has to offer you. But you just can't publish and sell them because they're mine. Thank you all and a big hug. The skill can be fully known, conquered and unforgettable, more simply, we will always seek to perfect ourselves body and soul for a true more passive and realistic understanding that will open the most open doors of all nature. Good class!

I want to start and represent with me a great development of cinematographic script that is available to my dear and friendly readers who will read and give their criticisms and suggestions of praise for being part of my school of cinematographic art in books about dramas, terror, suspense, adventure, romance, science fiction and much more that I kept in me a prodigious memory of my qualities that arises in a context of representation of national and international cinema with many bases of stories and engaging stories that will move with all audiences in a relativity way peace of mind of my cherished feelings and past thoughts in everyday life that will serve as an example of a fabulous dream-maker who sees momentary life and tries to avoid its mishaps with varieties to show the audience what a true cinema is and its superstitions that stay with us and make us feel attracted by their fascinating tales that move with our minds making us tense and reassuring us of our realities in the safest and most insecure doors of our reality of life and death that gives us more pleasure to be such a dream person or that removes the fear linked to the contradictions of life in the demands of the laws of love about hate and the hate of love in which it is consumed in the four walls of a cinema or in our conscious mind that feels depressed or authenticated about life with the courage to do it all again and turn the tables game and clarify any subject that life is just a black and white movie in the middle of the square with its mind-stimulating paths in some flow of life to inevitably be a different life, extending the normality of life that makes us feel love, courage and fear to a feeling of always ending up hating something to make way for the simple circumstances of life between good and bad wanting or not wanting to say that everything is fine for whether or not everything is like a bed of roses the eternal happiness of youth that overflows us and the inferiorities of the flesh that is or can be our age that ages us with the measurement of time that makes the nights and days pass us by unnoticed, inevitably leading us to the past that seeks the present that we only aspire to future as proof of our existence and competences on the truths and realities of life that only fantasize us fascinating illusions like a movie that we transcribe each scenario even if it is the beginning and the good or no matter the black and white life by order of life and death in the most abysmal tracings of the simple society that today lives in its dramas and acts against its advantages and disadvantages by a simple human gesture of being and being alive in the middle of the square or in the square. Social environment in day-to-day tasks, for traveling all the distances that life has to tell us, in us remaking and teaching all social classes the real demands of life and its realistic customs to make us suffer so that tomorrow we learn to value and better consider life and its existence as a real film in the various genres that order living life and exercising superlative standards for all the demands of life and the world that we convey from idealists and filmmakers acting along with life itself.

I believe that the film is the inevitable mirror of life and that it is very clear that we are acting in the way we act each life itself, no matter how many actors we pass from God to us.

dodging love and hate between our eternities and cinema will never stop because it's simply our own life. Thanks!

so that in the future we realize that we are complete and well suited to a realistic and effective condition of being the eternal lords of an ark of parchments written today in our formalities that helped us step by step to understand and to conquer the best of the life of a simple anthology Modern and histographic history that will lead us to the future we seek and simplify on real bases of a nature applicable to our advantage and our continuous and beneficial prosperity to write with the most inexhaustible pleasure of reading and understanding the pure question of realism and more of the notion of that our abode on earth is human. I believe in a better and more intelligent future in which we seek with more infinity the beautiful things that we will never see and today we accept in full condition, here and which were simply kept in our self as a collection of facts and lessons of a nature well connected with the man who wants to see life as it should be happy. This library, I tell you, is like a magical piece of true and original scrolls that will give us an encyclopedia of everything in the world, old and modern and this house lit enormous lights of benefit for a more optimistic future and more of a step by step and creative training that makes us better for its grandeur and for the perfection of everything that is perfect and that still exists today in our universal plan that tomorrow will show us the true case or life chance for your existences in a light that retracts from the intrepid reality of our lives here on earth for a real and genuine involvement in our lives that we dream about and we are great scientific gentlemen that seek and educate us in glorious harmony and a pact with life. I believe skill is not being or an experience we have or are born with, no matter what you need, few instincts will just have the positive will of yourself that you want it. Better means of wisdom and it is a superior quality that we have and we must always seek in life and in the depths of our souls to be more optimistic and have the perseverance to believe in a better future for the progress of our humanity. This library is a factor I created in an eternal stage of humanity and a deep recognition of a day that brings together everything that has ever been browsed and puts into practice good deeds and extraordinary benefits our profound literary lessons that we have learned and we will. it is enough to move forward to a better and more creative future from which we can benefit from any lesson that is the exciting act or effect that is well guarded in our convictions for the most secret door of wisdom in which we live in a world without catastrophe, however savage life may be, secondly, due to the extinction and order of nature, which can reveal itself in any matter and much more, our pure and literate conscience for the maximum inexhaustible enjoyment of living and always being happy. In my relationships, I speak in a language in alphabetical order the most beautiful questions and lessons I have read that I must read to the most enlightened and needy to know by a personal relativity of a positive character of mine that had been revealed relatively in the future with the educational purpose of simply learning and teaching other people who want to learn and live and feel that life is a library of disciplines that we must learn and always study. Thanks!

My name: Roberto Barros

Foundation: March 21, 2013.

In an attitude explored at the foot of the letter that goes to a notion more than an orthographic vocabulary that I intend here for a greater dissolution of my literary ideas and concepts in which I collect all my categories citing them biographically and metaphysically each act is constructive and passive effect of a contradictory relationship with my soul that sounds with a constructive purpose and demonstrative of a stronger character in my words expounded in a term more focused on anatomy, psychology and metaphysics in my simple speeches of 'a concept of words in orders of an optimistic conjunction defined in my true perspective.

The fables are formulated by a feature in time that seeks to achieve a scientific way of expressing my dreams through a journey through time in which I see a scientist character unraveling the most intrepid secrets of life.

involved with a boundary between cosmic spaces that unfold productively in my impulses created by my subtle soul identification force that is identified with my mind, which is creatively stored in the subconscious and transformed into nuclear chemistry to energize the mind for new life and perfect that goes through a chemical and nuclear process in a combination of beautiful images projected by the dreaming mind of a past time that was kept in the memories of the past.

The thoughts are framed by a psychological and philosophical feature that I have saved a social media reasoning in which I see the notion of life before people who are precariously misguided by whatever fantasy or burning desire attributed by the voluntary force of blind love so soon turns to hate industrialized by emotional factors reaching mental imbalance for a material struggle due to a neuropsychic sum to the most needy, dreamers and fighters for the gain and conquest of life that today are millions of human beings depending on the harsh voracity and realities built and destroyed for a reason tough soul who is always looking for a better way to live.

The chronicles are formulated by a metaphysical characteristic that in my opinion everything we do and create formatively is expressed in great relativity and varieties of points where we gain in equation and in fraction by a displacement and an interval of time and gestures by expression and the agreement on an emotional factor derived from training, formulation of ideas reached an exact conclusion of great personal varieties, that is, everything that materializes or spiritualizes that makes us win, lose, hate, love and so on. Being all by chance of life in a suspicious combination or subject to a definite state for something, other and someone being all about a variation of life for a passive and moral encounter of an understanding.

The tales are made by a characteristic of a young man who has purpose in life in everyone and with everyone born of an adventurous and historical fraternity that sees life as a visionary of the past and if we remember daily the best times we had and remain in our memory of all of us what we do today in relation to life and our life that makes us a little different from people who are wrong about their own lives and urges us to put in order everything that we have lived and that we saw as a dream that today becomes became great stories in a poetic brotherhood in the eternal stage of life that will serve as a memory of our youth and make us live forever in every moment of life everything that passed by us and before us to obtain everything by a simple notion of our ideas and our ideal emerged from the simple circumstance of life that, productively and creatively, it resembled never in the future as a reminder of everything in life.

My point of view is simply a notion that I assume as a duty and based on a class of ideas that I reconstruct for myself, always looking at the bright and dark side of life, differentiating myself from the evil that is against it. Love because life offers us more let us be subjected to the misfits of life that represent the dark side of life that is black and that has no value in a clear vision and always lived by the creation of life as well as the push and pull of the universe that is still the builder and destroyer of the best lives that are always illuminated by sunlight in a hue of dark and light, all remaining later in the quintessence of life in my conceptions and vibrations of a modern man and of the future that I will always play like a sound always put a melody that satisfies a benefactor world of my ideas and views of a perfect writer of her own that I made a subtle movement in my bar that took my boat to the shores of soul safety and the most correct creation and perfection that life taught me. Thank you very much and a big hug!

I believe that before all this we can now understand here by a great relationship with my work I describe the bottom of my soul, this biography can show us all my relationship in a moral and scientific concept that we can understand in all the prefaces of my books that refer to a fantastic translation from Portuguese to English, Greek and Italian that are related and classified in Portuguese philosophically and theoretically that I established a deeper grammar in several bases of psychoanalysis that involves a metaphysics in a more focused and deciphered way fullness plus a point of my ideas in which I saw a character and a writer who described everything that is shown in my best works so that everyone can understand my lesson and see where they can understand according to my words and the recognition between the fantastic theory of writing and transmitting to everyone a good reading that is confused with the psychology, the multi-purpose philosophy that is at stake based on science into an art and a system of qualification of all readings in various metaphysics that are formulated between a grammatical narration that literally develops a tale as a theory and a scientific concept that are written here about all my relationship with Brazilian literature that here I leave my work with great affection and for everyone to see a little of me and I thank all my dear and fellow readers of the corner of the letter and first I want to thank God for My encouragement and work as a writer that will become the best and most sincere greetings and thank you!

THE BEST OF ME

I am a person who tends to see life realistically, which makes my dreams a real future and which, over time, remakes my mind on a fundamental concept of ideas that for me to struggle more with my intellectual side to simplify ourselves in the search for life without conflict with youth, which is just a fantasy in which we put our reaction function in order with a simple desire to achieve something that makes us feel good than the esteem of ourselves remaking and conquering the new world more than a day we dream and learn to make better use of our capacity that today is more evolved with so many technological advances that we would be frustrated in doing something about 'unusual if we were incomplete and we had metaphysics in our environment to remake all the raw materials in perfect unity and high performance to create something or what that thing that makes us happy and puts us at ease and today we look more at things than a conviction suggests to show that we are s or S the most powerful and the most creative, after a few years we already put the right things in the right place and we are not in danger because we know that everything is fine and is in perfect union like an atom. after a few years we have already put the right things in the right place and we are not in danger because we know that everything is fine and is in perfect union like an atom. after a few years we have already put the right things in the right place and we are not in danger because we know that everything is fine and is in perfect union like an atom.

I have my ideas that become more agile in all circumstances I do in life and I put aside the bad mood to overcome the frailties of life that are like evidence of new efforts still with us the true conclusions and the answer is right and soon I will feel fine. Why not!

We live today in a republican country that had a history as careful as any other classified ad, we can say that we were simply irradiated and influenced by everything or the most common tradition of a people reflecting on different races under different sovereignties and several thrones were classified as examples of power, justice and order over the simple society that is now more formalized and educated in the new standards that teach the great people who don't think like in the past that today the standard of living increases proportionally. of foreign infiltration in the labor market and great industrial revolutions that always surprise us and give space to the man from the south with his role as a worker, exercising more culture and love for her as her habits are more examples and activities in our social and intellectual environments. I believe we fail to appease our good times when we must always remember how primitive man was who through socialist simplicity was born into this world in an aspect that perhaps he remembered as the ape-man, primitive that we are today totaled on a platform that is, perhaps, even winning our spaces and they give our horizons we versify a beautiful story that always takes the future as an unforgettable and formalized prodigious emanation in which it plants the seeds in the soil and idealized. Our commitments and life look quite different than what we just thought and the world is in our control I believe I believe we fail to appease our good times when we must always remember how primitive man was who through socialist simplicity was born into this world in an aspect that perhaps he remembered as the ape-man, primitive that we are today totaled on a platform that is, perhaps, even winning our spaces and they give our horizons we versify a beautiful story that always takes the future as an unforgettable and formalized prodigious emanation in which it plants the seeds in the soil and idealized. we travel the world and conquer life and death no longer exists what exists is just memories of a time of conquest, a fantastic elaboration on a well traveled path and always and we must travel to the future because one day it may show us the life that we planned and yes we will learn to live and follow a path that will take us to a space where we will have time to transcribe our emptiness that will make us understand what we lacked and that our consciences are simply the love that we had and that we learned to live. Cherish life and simply our world! a fantastic elaboration on a well traveled path and always and we must travel to the future because one day it will be able to show us the life we planned and yes we will learn to live and follow a path that will lead us to a space where we will have time to transcribe our voids that make us understand what we lacked and that our consciences are simply the love we had and that we learned to live. ## IDYLLIC LECTURE ON A PHILOSOPHY

I simply want to show in my philosophy a well-defined collection that in several words we will find in the term a set of words in which we can simplify a chronicle.

establishing a metaphysics in which a verse can systematically show the philosophical side in which we collect a relativity of different classes in which words correspond to a genre and mean that we will successively fantasize a story as a simple verse to describe a philosophy that we explore theoretically as a philosophical tale that we will logically seek for the love that we feel and have for the word in everything that concerns philosophy and I want to explain a little about philosophy and its relations.

What is philosophy literally? "Love of Wisdom" is the study of general and fundamental questions about existence, knowledge, values, reason, spirit and language; often presented as problems to be solved. The term was probably coined by Pythagoras (circa 570 - 495 BC). Philosophical methods include questioning, critical discussion, rational argument, and systematic presentation. Classic philosophical questions include: Is it possible to know something and prove that you know it? What's more real? Philosophers also ask more practical, concrete questions, such as: Is there a better way to live? Is it better to be fair or unfair (if you can get away with it)? Do human beings have free will?

Historically, "philosophy" encompassed any body of knowledge. From the time of the ancient Greek philosopher Aristotle until the 19th century, "natural philosophy" encompassed astronomy, medicine, and physics. For example, Newton's work Philosophiæ Naturalis Principia Mathematica (1687) was later classified as a physics textbook. In the 19th century, the growth of modern research universities led academic philosophy and other disciplines to professionalize and specialize.

Other inquiries closely related to art, science, politics or other pursuits are still part of philosophy. For example, is beauty objective or subjective? Are there multiple scientific methods or just one? Is political utopia a hopeful dream or just a fantasy? Major subfields of academic philosophy include metaphysics ("concerned with the fundamental nature of reality and being"), epistemology (the nature and basis of knowledge) and its limits and validity", ethics, aesthetics, political philosophy, logic and the philosophy of science.

It all starts as an emanation between psychoanalysis, metaphysics and philosophy that I simply want to form a class in which the idea can tell us in contradiction with a term or substantial use of a line that will be transformed into a sentence.

Love is like a rudder that makes us row and makes us react sentimentally at different doors of the mind that pushes us towards a reaction between a relationship more dedicated to others than a need for simplicity to which we feel drawn like a straight arrow from our affections that everything has become a pacified case of pleasure where euphoria has invaded a space in which we will fight and desire that will or that idea we love in which we will seek the will in which we are trapped in a circle of simple circumstances in which people our fantasies can lead us to great adventures that push us more love that we can't forget and that everything is on a border that we don't see the hate that we can see - to be releasing it as a contradiction of jealousy linked to loving him simply means that we are transformed into a being that was surprised by something relative to the ordinary and that we reveal ourselves in some way that everything in life can continue in that indispensable, fearful, appreciative space of time in which all the relevance of life can tell us that we simply love someone who , in logic,it would be more or less a proper sense in which we develop a more refined behavior towards the end of the pleasure that makes us suffer in others by a more clairvoyant notion in which everything becomes something substantial from certain thoughts that challenge our feelings by emotional contradiction to see things around us to invigorate us as a psychological factor in which we are led to an allure of love that has no pathology and that is not even because of few factors systematically an energy or electrical factor that offers a commitment that always attracts our attention and us it's good because the logic of love would simply be looking for a point of relationship where we seek affection for someone and that person has become something that has taken us in an exploratory desire to know that in everything and for everything you give yourself to the pleasure that could be directed to an ancestral fantasy that we have always created as a pleasure vehicle in which we always dream of its almost inexplicable capacities due to a logic that we become secret admirers of a relationship in which we are looking for a friendship that we can define that we love someone systematically and this factor can show us something unusual that formalizes us between a concept of overcoming some obstacles in life of courage, enthusiasm, admiration, affection in which our skills are linked to a fascination for life as we seek to understand the altitude, perseverance relationship between a contact that we do not want to lose sight of and that everything would be an emotional manifestation of our perseverance relationship between a contact that we do not want to lose sight of and that everything would be an emotional manifestation of our perseverance relationship between a contact that we do not want to lose sight of and that everything would be an emotional manifestation of our perseverance relationship between a contact that we do not want to lose sight of and that everything would be an emotional manifestation of our perseverance relationship between a contact that we do not want to lose sight of and that everything would be an emotional manifestation of our perseverance relationship between a contact that we do not want to lose sight of and that everything would be an emotional manifestation of our admiration, affection in which our skills are linked to a fascination for life as we seek to understand the altitude, perseverance relationship between a contact that we do not want to lose sight of and that everything would be an emotional manifestation of our

desires in which we can say that we are in love and that love is simply a reaction of affection with which we seek to identify our desires, attributed dreams that may be intended for us or that were certainly intended to be an emanation of a contradictory nature from the life in which we live. we are led to the pleasure of meeting someone and that person can tell us what he feels about us and that everything is in a circuit linked to a certain circumstance of love in which we can believe in the reality that we could have dreamed of and that this pleasure could become something most desired, adventurous and transformed into pleasure as a means of liberating oneself from despair when the struggle that consists of a small logic of survival in which love becomes something relatively fantastic insofar as it complements us and makes us happy in almost every way aspects of human nature and that love is the perfect proof that we love someone for affection, for admiration, obtaining all that logic based more on physical love linked to carnal pleasure that makes us desire sex that leads us to the unforgettable pleasure of enjoying this carnal love and everything is between an opposition that we could feel from love inside as it would be in the most realistic and compromising logic between two people who have never seen each other and are only going to know each other, achieving that more emotional love connected to the true love that you love and that you can love and that can last a long time and that we not simply cannot bear this love and in physics we can only lead it to our most intimate, but before that we revere everything and everything like a true love in which we can say that the philosophy and teaches us to love in the other how much love is synonymous with loving, but we are going to conquer a side of life that we suggest that we are innate by the desires of our body and soul and that maybe we are attracted by a factor but let's conquer a side of life that we suggest that we are innate by the desires of our body and soul and that maybe we are attracted by a factor but let's conquer a side of life that we suggest that we are innate by the desires of our body and soul and that maybe we are attracted by a factor reaction of struggle in which everything is also written as God made us and which always emanated from us when they say that God made man in his likeness and that he taught him to love all the things of paradise, leaving hell as his goal. Darkness where souls are made to pay for the evils they committed in the life they comes from hell that represents hatred for all abilities of being and being where we can know anything out of the ordinary and its references would make the world a person's lament in which love has not been able to establish its flow that we can classify as good that it is an adverb showing affection for a person. People when hate is a masculine name that represents evil that shows no affection to anyone and that we can certainly prescribe in all things related to love that is under the bright side of life that differs from the negative side of life that is death that represents the evil in which life symbolically represents the good that makes us react to such affective commitments in our fantasies and dreams that pass from a specific will to a psychological variety of identifying with someone and showing devotion to that person that in my philosophy I explain about love and its relationships that can formalize us in an agreement and a fascination of our wills that emotionally everything is clarifiedis clarifiedis clarified psychologically we call active psychology which is the science that deals with mental states and processes, human behavior and interactions with a physical and social environment.

MAIN MEMORY OF AN ARTIST AND HIS POINT OF VIEW

I can't let life go by without showing who I am, because it would be more accurate to say something better than that a lot of people live in hiding and don't have the talent to be an artist like a musician, writer who I am and I want to show the world world and Pinterest my whole life. Brazilian history in which I conquered the world telling fascinating stories and tales in which philosophy is more focused on a comprehensive literature that addresses great scientific lessons in which my sociology teaches many people to live more positively with life where we can find a path of truth and I want to show this blog that I called wise thoughts and spirits that I made with a lot of love and work for the world to see and read about me in which I write chronicles, thoughts,

MESSAGE

Peace is eternal and so great that we by nature because we are human and we always preserve all forms of alidades that life offers in which we will strengthen our paths with all the honor and glory that God is pleased with what he does emos with life that life teaches us that we also live forever in our homeland in a world republic in all our countries that we always like to see things in life and the rich and the poor who are examples of sovereignty and some suffer and because we learn to love and value our lives because it can't be perfect my i'm trying to show our best values in our hearts.
